PRESS RELEASE

VOICE TODAY, INC. Announces WHITE OUT CHILD SEXUAL ABUSE DAY

April 30th 2017 Wear White to honor and show compassion to survivors of child sexual abuse and exploitation!

Atlanta, Ga, April, 2017: White Out Child Sexual Abuse Day is sponsored by VOICE Today to bring awareness to the desperate need to honor victims of child sexual abuse to show compassion for the suffering of 1 in 4 girls and 1 in 6 boys who are sexually abused by their 18th birthday. "One day I pray that globally the world will pause and pay tribute to the millions (42,000,000 reported in the US) who have suffered the loss of their innocence and make a courageous commitment to help victims of child sexual abuse and exploitation to heal," states Angela Williams founder of VOICE Today.

WHITE OUT CHILD SEXUAL ABUSE day is April 30th, birthday of the founder Angela Williams who suffered child sexual abuse for 14 years from age 3 to 17 at the hands of her stepfather! We are asking the world to wear WHITE on April 30, 2017 in honor of the innocence of children we must protect from child sexual abuse. April is nationally recognized Child Abuse Awareness Month and child sexual abuse is one of the most silenced abuses our children suffer.

Show your support and wear white on April 30th to make a statement that you care and you are going to stand with survivors of child sexual abuse. Post a photo of you and your friends wearing white at facebook.com/voicetoday, twitter @avoicetoday, or Instagram voicetoday

Voice Today is a non-profit organization that ministers hope and healing to victims of child sexual abuse and exploitation.
